Manual for Officers 2020

To be elected or appointed to any office in a Scottish Rite Body is a distinct honor, which carries with it responsibility. Those who accept these honors must be prepared and willing to undertake the duties and responsibilities of their offices with the realization that some personal sacrifice will be necessary.

It is not intended that holding office in a Scottish Rite Body should interfere with an officer's vocation and his efforts to earn a livelihood. However, when any other cause, unless it be illness or death in the family, prevents his expected and required attendance at the meetings, rehearsals, and reunions, he errs in expecting that his absence will be overlooked. If absence results from the pressure of one's usual vocation, or from illness, the members are usually very considerate in forgiving the absence. However, if it is the result of lack of interest or conflict with what might be termed personal pleasure, continued approval cannot be expected. Under such circumstances, he should make way for another member who is more interested and willing to serve more faithfully.

I certify that I have read both pages of this document. I have read the Officer Expectations for the Valley of Terre Haute as outlined and understand all that is required of me to better serve the Valley of Terre Haute.
